124 Noun + preposition, e.g. trouble with

A Introduction

Read this true story about a prison escape.

Prisoners at a jail in Iowa in the US were trying to think of a way of escaping. At last they found an answer to their problem. They told the governor about their interest in drama and their need for creative activities. They put in a request for some tunnel-digging equipment for a play about coalminers. They knew that the governor felt sympathy for his prisoners and wanted a good relationship with them, but they weren't surprised when he said no. But later, when the prisoners mentioned the importance of physical fitness, the governor agreed to let them use a trampoline. Their skill at trampolining was put to good use when six prisoners bounced over the prison wall and escaped.

Some nouns can have a preposition after them, e.g. way of, answer to, interest in. The preposition often has a phrase with a noun after it.

the answer to the problem their interest in drama And the preposition can sometimes have an ing-form after it.

a way of escaping their skill at trampolining

C Connection, difference; increase, reduction, etc

One thing has a link with another.

a connection with another crime

Matthew's relationship with Emma the contrast with yesterday's weather

There is a link between two things.

a connection between the two crimes
the relationship between Matthew and Emma the contrast/difference between town and country

Look at these words for increases and decreases. We use in before the thing that is increasing or decreasing and of before the amount of the increase or decrease.

an increase/rise in the price a reduction/fall in the number of unemployed an increase/rise of £10 a reduction/fall of 3%

D Need, wish, etc

Nouns meaning 'need', 'wish' or 'request' can have for after them.

There's a need for more houses. There was no demand for the product.

Here are some examples: appetite for, application for, demand for, desire for, need for, order for, preference for, request for, taste for, wish for

121 For, since, ago and before

FOR

Mark has spent three hours playing a computer game. He's been sitting there for three hours. SINCE

It was two o'clock when Mark started the game. He's been playing since two o'clock. AGO

Three hours have passed since Mark and Sarah got up from the lunch table. They finished their lunch three hours ago.

B For and since with the present perfect

We often use for and since with the present perfect to talk about something continuing up to the present.

FOR SING

We use for to say how long something has continued.

I've been waiting for forty minutes.

We've known about it for two days.

Melanie has been living here for a year now.

We use since to say when something began,

I've been waiting since ten past six.

We've known about it since Monday.

Melanie has been living here since last year.

We can also use for with other tenses.

I'm staying in England for a year. We swam for quite a long time.

We can often leave out for (but not from some negative sentences).

We've had this car (for) six months. I haven't seen Vicky for a day or two.

C Ago with the past

We can use the adverb ago to talk about a past time measured from the present.

Six months ago means six months before now.

I passed my driving test six months ago. NOT since six months

Vicky wrote to the company weeks ago. David first met Melanie a long time ago.

Have you seen Emma? ~ Yes, just a few minutes ago.

We put ago after the phrase of time, NOT ago-six months

D Before with the past perfect

We use before (not ago) with the past perfect, e.g. had done.

I bought a car in August. I'd passed my driving test three months before.

(= in May, three months before August)

Vicky finally received a reply to the letter she had written weeks before.

122 During or while? By or until? As or like?

A During or while?

Compare these examples.

I often read during a meal. It happened during the night. You'll have to be quiet during the performance. During is a preposition (like in). It comes before a phrase like a meal or the night.

I often read while I'm eating. It happened while they were asleep. Were there any phone calls while I was out? While is a linking word (like when). It comes before a clause, e.g. I'm eating.

B By or until?

Compare these examples.

I'm very busy this week. I have to finish this report by Thursday. Trevor will be home by half past six. They hope to build the new bridge by next July. The post should be here by now.

I'll be busy for most of this week. I won't have any time until Friday. He'll be at work until half past five. We won't have another holiday until next summer.

Till is more informal than until. / slept till ten o'clock.

We can use by the time or until before a clause, e.g. we arrived.

There was no food left by the time we arrived. I'll wait until you're ready. NOT by we-arrived See Unit 27B for the present simple after until, etc.

C As, like and as if

Compare these examples.

She works as a fashion model. (= She is a model.) As a beginner you simply have to learn the basics. I'm using this tin as an ashtray.

We use as to talk about a job or function.

She dresses like a fashion model. (= Her clothes are similar to a model's.) Mark is a good golfer, but today he played like a beginner. You look like your brother.

We use like to talk about things being similar.

We can also use as or like before a clause.

We drive on the left here, as/like you do in Britain.

Mike and Sarah are going to Paris for the weekend, as/like they did last year.

Like is more informal than as before a clause.

We also use as with verbs of speaking and knowing, e.g. say, know, expect. As I said before, I'm sorry. (= I'm sorry, and I said so before.) I haven't much money, as you know. (- I haven't much money, and you know it.) Rachel arrived late, as we expected. (= We expected her to arrive late, and she did.)

We use as if before a clause to say how something seems. Tom looks really awful. He looks as if he's been up all night. Nick can be a difficult person. He sometimes behaves as if he's the only one with problems.
